

Re-Industrialization – Impact and Opportunities for Hong Kong

Speaker profile

Mr. Kevin Ko, Managing Director, Radius China

Kevin Ko, Managing Director for Radius China, has 20 years experience in product design, with his most recent 10 years taking up senior management positions in various multi-national companies. Kevin's working experience not only spans the entire product development cycle but also across the globe in the U.S.A., Taiwan, Singapore, Mainland China and Hong Kong.

Prior to joining Radius, Kevin managed a product design team at MACH (Microsoft Asia Center for Hardware) with responsibilities covering front-end design, mechanical engineering and tooling development. He also spent 10+years in the design arm of Flextronics serving the mobile and consumer electronic industries. Kevin started his career in Palo Alto Design Group in the Silicon Valley which was acquired by Flextronics back in 2000.

Kevin received his B.S. degree of mechanical engineering and M.S. degree of manufacturing systems engineering from the University of Wisconsin, Madison. He also received an MBA degree from the Hong Kong University of Science and Technology.